

Hollywood Movie Surveyors: The “R” Rated Version (A) (L) (N) (S) (V) – BUT NO (D) !?!

John F. BROCK, Australia

Key words:

SUMMARY

Amongst my first collection of movies in which surveying scenes were contained, there were only two which contained content which in any way could be construed as sexy or violent. However, of subsequent findings which have come to my attention the same wholesome predominance certainly cannot be declared, as lewd scenes of voyeurism, sex and nudity, along with abundant violence, are featuring in much greater proportion.

Even though one scene is graphically savage resulting in the grisly demise of the geological surveyor, others tend towards the melodramatic and quite unbelievable when surveyors or their assistants are seen using the theodolite as a defensive weapon or employing survey marker stakes to crack over the heads of rival surveying teams. In two of the movies, the surveying instrument is utilised to spy upon unknowing victims who have very few, if any, clothes upon their person, thus portraying the users in quite an unsavoury manner.

On the lighter side of this brand new collection of Hollywood surveying footage we even see Secret Agent 007 encouraged to inspect the survey marks on an oil pipeline set out, by his voluptuous femme fatale, Electra, in “The World Is Not Enough”, more surveyors having their hats shot off in another “Duke” classic, and surveys of plant roots in a community garden in an episode of “Dharma and Greg”. All in all, this is yet another fantastic collage of surveying in the immortal traditions of Hollywood entertainment, but may I suggest that children be suitably screened from access to this naughty but nice sequel of saucy silver screen surveying !! Now cover the eyes and ears of the children, the squeamish and the prudish, and sit back, and occasionally on the edge of your seats, for a very adult viewing of surveying in Hollywood movies ... and enjoy – very much !!

1. INTRODUCTION

It seems to have been such a short time since I edited my last video compilation “Superstar Surveying: Hollywood Style (IV)” down to a 35 minute production for the Melbourne University Graduate Society towards the end of last year, that it is scarcely believable that I have been able find the time to track down so many more movies, and even more surprising that I have also been able to create this all new production of “Hollywood Movie Surveyors: The ‘R’ Rated Version” containing 25 movie clips, two TV shows and one more TV advertisement for your unlimited enjoyment. This latest effort comes with a bit of a difference to my first eminently wholesome family show because it contains many adult themes, very coarse language, nudity, sex scenes and strong violence spelling a gruesome end to two of our cinematic compatriots !!! You will be quite stunned and shocked at some of the segments which feature surveyors in many an infamous light than those with which our rather conservative profession would prefer display us, but nonetheless there may even be some level of real life behaviour exposed for all to witness !?! Who indeed would know, except we surveyors, of course !?!

Once again I include my unique referencing system for the content of surveying in movies for ready reckoning of the amount likely to be encountered within each of the productions.

2. REFERENCING SYSTEM FOR SURVEY CONTENT

VS - Verbal reference to surveyors/surveying only

BS - Background/minor scene of surveying

SS - Star or one of the main characters are surveyors or do survey work

MS - Main theme of movie is surveying related or built around the main star/s as surveyors

Table -Reference System for Survey Content in Movies

3. CONCLUSION

As always I would like to finish this paper off with an appeal to all surveyors, their wives and friends to keep on the look out for any movies at all which may contain the smallest piece of relevance to surveyors or surveying. Should you come across any such segments please contact me as soon as you can so that I may be able to follow a fresh scent for this most pleasurable of game to add to my mantle piece of film trophies. Keep hunting my faithful compatriots, and be proud, vigilant and keen in your quest for more and more silver screen surveying heroes !!!

4. DEDICATION

I dedicate this paper and video compilation to all of those producers, directors, writers, editors and stars who have so often incorporated some aspect of surveying into their screenplays and performances in whatever context they have chosen to do so which has yielded so many colourful examples during my continuous hunt for such movies and television programs bearing such content !!

I URGE EVERYONE WHO READS THIS PAPER OR VIEWS MY VIDEO TO GO OUT AND ACQUIRE AS MANY OF THESE MOVIES AS POSSIBLE TO WATCH COMPLETELY, AS EACH AND EVERYONE IS EXCELLENT VALUE IN ENTERTAINMENT FOR ANYONE, BUT MOST ESPECIALLY TO ANY SURVEYOR !!

APPENDIX B

MOVIES WITH SURVEYING CONTENT (in my collection as at 20th August, 2004)

Brief snippets of the following 25 movies will be played during this presentation.
(NOTE: For movies 1/ to 36/ please refer to my paper “Silver Screen Surveying: Hollywood Style (IV)”.)

37/ Three To Tango

BS, Comedy/Romance, Rated PG (1999)

Director : Damon Santostefano

Starring : Matthew Perry, Neve Campbell, Dylan McDermott, Oliver Platt

Two architects vie for a contract on a big project, as well as the leading lady, with some mildly humorous situations arising from Perry’s mistaken identity as a homosexual. A brief early scene near the start of the movie shows a survey party collecting detail data at the proposed site.

38/ Chisum

BS, Western, PG (1970)

Director : Andrew V. McLaglen

Starring : John Wayne, Forrest Tucker, Christopher George

When Chisum (Wayne) rides into town with his friend all of the businesses from livery stables to the general store there are run by the one crooked operator, Murphy (Tucker), and in the background there is even a sign displaying his activity in “Land Surveying and Development” !?

39/ How The West Was Won

VS, War/Western, Rated G (1962)

Director : John Ford and Henry Hathaway

Starring : James Stewart, Carroll Baker, Lee J. Cobb, Henry Fonda,
Carolyn Jones, Karl Malden, Gregory Peck, George Peppard

An all-star studded journey through the history of settlement in the US west. A mention is made of the “surveyors” finding a route across the mountains for the railway line.

40/ Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House

VS, Drama, Rated G, (1948)

Director : H. C. Potter

Starring : Cary Grant, Myrna Loy, Melvyn Douglas, Reginald Denny

Living in a tiny New York apartment, the Blandings resolve to buy acreage in the country and custom build their own dream home, only to be confronted with more complications than they could ever anticipate. During a consultation with their solicitor, who is a family friend, they are informed that not only is the purchase price very excessive, the land will “survey” at only about 35 acres instead of the 50 that was originally offered !

41/ Pitch Black

BS, Horror/Science Fiction/Thriller, Rated R, (2000)

Director : David N. Twohy

Starring : Vin Diesel, Radha Mitchell, Cole Hauser, Keith David

Marooned on a distant isolated planet with two suns and a seemingly dry lifeless environment, a disparate group of cosmic wanderers are confronted with much more danger and action than they had expected. When Riddick (Vin Diesel) is sent on a reconnaissance mission to what remains of the planet's research station he finds a surveying reflective prism buried in the surrounding dry sand.

42/ The Land of the Pharaohs

BS, Drama, Rated PG, (1955)

Director : Howard Hawks

Starring : Jack Hawkins, Joan Collins, Dewey Martin, Alex Minotis

Covers the apparent motivation of the Old System Pharaoh, Khufu, for erecting the Great Pyramid, in which he planned to take all his riches with him in his spiritual journey into the afterlife. A cast of thousands gives a realistic impression of what the scenes would have been like during the construction of the only surviving Wonder of the Ancient World, and includes a brief, but historically authentic, view of one of the Scribes of the Field using a sb<sub>3</sub> which is a simple instrument used for levelling purposes. The hieroglyphic representation of this word shows an image of the instrument itself as the determinative to the letters.

43/ The Last of the Mohicans

BS, Western/War/Romance, Rated M, (1992)

Director : Michael Mann

Starring : Daniel Day-Lewis, Madeleine Stowe, Russell Means, Eric Schweig, Jodhi May, Steve Waddington, Wes Studi

Three Indian trappers intervene to save the two daughters of a British Colonel during the Anglo-French Wars in Northern America. While the French commander discusses tactics with his Indian ally, Magua looks through the circumferentor standing near the entrance to the tent, and seems to be quite captivated by the device.

44/ The Claim

SS, Western/Romance, Rated PG, (2000)

Director : Michael Winterbottom

Starring : Peter Mullan, Milla Jovovich, Wes Bentley, Sarah Polley

Twenty years before, the wealthy owner of the old west mining town Kingdom Come had sold his wife and baby child to another gold miner for the rights to his mine. Now a surveyor called Dalglish (Bentley) and his crew come to town to inspect for a new railway line through the town, bringing with him Hope Burn (Polley) who appears to be the rich man's daughter. A brief scene of the surveyor showing his young female acquaintance some aspects of surveying in the snow covered terrain is interrupted by an avalanche.

45/ Heroes' Mountain

BS, Drama, Rated G, (2002)

Director : Peter Andrikidis

Starring : Craig McLachlan, Tom Long, Anthony Hayes, Jodie Dry

The true story of the rescue of Stuart Diver (McLachlan) from beneath tonnes of concrete and metal after a 1997 landslide in the Australian Snowy Mountains resort town of Thredbo killed 36 people, including Stuart's wife, Sally. Surveying scenes are brief, but the real life surveyor hero for the work was Peter Burns from Cooma, one of my old University buddies. Good on you, Peter !!!

46/ Propoganda (Turkish)

Director : Sincin Cetin

Starring : Metin Akpinar, Kemal Sunal, Melten Cumbul, Rafet el Roman, Meral Orhonsay

Set in Eastern Turkey in 1948, the story shows how far removed the administration in the capital Ankara is when it comes to establishing a town management system in a distant old township. Surveyors mark out the dividing line for the administrative area exactly in accordance with the orders from head office without any consideration as to how the settlers had occupied the countryside since the original boundaries were created, with obvious calamitous and divisive ramifications

47/ Goethe: Wahverwandtschaften (Swiss)

SS, Drama/Romance, Rated M, (1996)

Director : Paolo e Vittorio Taviani

Starring : Isabelle Huppert, Fabrizio Bentivoglio, Jean Hugues Anglade, Marie Gillain

Swiss movie in two languages, but with a clear storyline. A female owner of a grand estate employs the services of two surveyors to contour and detail her holding, having had intimate relations with one of them before the survey. When a very attractive young maid enters into the employ of the household there is a changing of sexual liaisons after the surveying segment during which very unusual field techniques are utilised.

48/ Stifter: Kalkstein (Swiss)

MS, Drama, Rated PG, (1997)

Director : Imo Moskowicz

Starring : Josef Meinrad, Karl-Heinz Martell

Quite bizarre tale of a land surveyor mapping out a snow covered Alpine village in which a very strange priest tends the religious needs of the small population. At the start of the story the surveyor is seen measuring the village area with a plane table mounted with theodolite, then later on he is also shown taking observations with a polished brass theodolite. At this time he uses his brass pocket telescope to spy in a voyeuristic fashion on the school children lifting up their trousers and skirts to cross the river where the bridge has collapsed.

49/ Heist

SS, Drama, Rated R, (2001)

Director : David Mamet

Starring : Gene Hackman, Danny Devito, Sam Rockwell

Veteran jewel thief played by Hackman is coerced into pulling off just one more major heist of gold bullion from an aeroplane. Road surveying is used as a cover for Hackman while he is setting up a charge for an explosive diversion nearby to the airport runway, but a police patrol causes some consternation when it stops to investigate the road gang, resulting in some very coarse expletives being uttered by some of the gang members.

50/ The World is Not Enough

VS & BS, Action/Drama, Rated PG, (1999)

Director : Michael Apted

Starring : Pierce Brosnan, Sophie Marceau, Robert Carlyle, Denise Richards, Robbie Coltrane

James Bond (Brosnan) is sent to the Middle East on an assignment to protect the daughter of a recently assassinated oil tycoon. At the site of the cross country oil project surveyors are seen in the background carrying out work while Elektra (Marceau) remarks to 007 that she is about to ski to the site of the join in the proposed oil pipeline to inspect the survey marks. Mr. Bond immediately responds that he had always wanted to see the survey marks himself, and invites himself to accompany the bewitching Elektra on her ski trip.

51/ Last of the Dogmen

BS, Action/Drama, Rated PG (1995)

Director : Tab Murphy

Starring : Tom Berenger, Barbara Hershey

The tracker (Berenger) helps the anthropologist (Hershey) locate a lost Cheyenne tribe. An early scene of a survey instrument in the foreground on an archaeological dig is followed later on with Hershey and Berenger inspecting a cache of souvenirs collected by the tribe from intruders who came too close to their secret village and were killed. An old dusty dumpy level is touched and studied in the ramshackle storage hut.

52/ North by Northwest

BS, Thriller, Rated PG, (1959)

Director : Alfred Hitchcock

Starring : Cary Grant, Eva Marie Saint, James Mason, Martin Landau

A typical Hitchcock thriller with more twists than a corkscrew as advertising executive George Kaplan is mistaken by Russian spies to be the UN representative/spy Roger Thornhill (both parts played by Grant). Double agent Eve Kendall (Saint) falls for Grant, putting her life in severe jeopardy, and culminating in a thrilling chase scene where Grant and Saint are pursued all over the Mount Rushmore monument. This is included because three of the US Presidents' heads were surveyors – George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln, but not Roosevelt.

53/ Frontier Horizon – also called New Frontier

BS, Western, Rated G, (1939)

Director : George Sherman

Starring : John Wayne, Ray Corrigan, Raymond Hatton

The Three Mesquiteers make a mistake when helping their friends from New Hope Valley move to new land when a dam is proposed to flood their existing land, but this a ruse by shifty developers who want the property for other more valuable purposes. Aggrieved landholders shoot at the surveyors knocking a staff out of the hands of one assistant and the hat off the head of one of the survey teams, as well as burning the survey data as is proclaimed in a burning newspaper headline !!

3/ The Fighting Kentuckian (see my previous papers for this original numbering)

MS, Drama, Rated PG, (1949)

Director : George Waggoner

Starring : John Wayne, Oliver Hardy, Vera Ralston, Philip Dorn, Marie Windsor

A light-hearted western about two Kentuckians played by Wayne and Hardy, who are looking to settle down after their years in the fighting Kentucky forces, but are made to feel unwelcome by a shifty group of businessmen and gamblers who have planned to dispossess French settlers who have built up grand homesteads and farms on land upon which the boundary markers had been deliberately moved. Wayne finds himself in the position of pretending to be a surveyor sent to check the boundary stakes after he is persuaded to do so by the glamorous Windsor who appeals to his male ego for help. Good fun and the dialogue and action related to surveying will tickle any surveyor. In the segment on this video Breen (Wayne) picks up a survey stake only to have it shot from his hand by an unseen sniper !

54/ Denver and Rio Grande

MS, Western, Rated G, (1952)

Director : Byron Haskin

Starring : Edmond O'Brien, Sterling Hayden, Dean Jagger, Kasey Rogers

The heads of two rival railway surveying teams argue about the routes being surveyed by each other, coming to blows with survey stakes and guns used in the fight, with one man shot dead. A good surveying piece at the start of the story precedes the fracas.

55/ Western Union

MS, Western, Rated G, (1941)

Director : Fritz Lang

Starring : Robert Young, Randolph Scott, Dean Jagger, Virginia Gilmore

Trials and tribulations of the crew that surveyed the line for the telegraph company through Indian and outlaw infested lands. Surveyor Blake (Young), while surveying, uses his transit to spot marauding Indians, and they quickly cease their work to warn the others. Back at the encampment Shaw (Scott) has an altercation with a drunken Indian, wresting the polished brass survey instrument from him and then using the transit to ward off his knife attack.

56/ The Boys From Brazil

BS, Thriller, Rated M, (1978)

Director : Franklin J. Schaffner

Starring : Gregory Peck, Laurence Olivier, James Mason, Lilli Palmer

Josef Mengele (played by Peck) the insane Nazi biochemist known as the “Angel of Death”, sets out to finalise a bizarre experiment set in motion during the end of World War Two. Adolph Hitler’s genes had been injected into some embryos over a decade before and nearly 100 women had been impregnated with Hitler clones. On one of the missions to murder the father of one of the cloned boys, the man to be killed is engaged in surveying a dam in Sweden by himself ?? Mengele’s assassin recognises his victim, but this does not save the surveyor from being hurled over the dam safety fence and plunging 300 metres to his doom.

57/ Mararia

SS, Drama/Romance, Rated M, (1998)

Director : Andres Santana

Starring : Carmelo Gomez, Iain Glen, Goya Toledo

A surveyor/geologist played by Iain Glen (Bertrand) comes to an isolated lava encrusted island somewhere in the Canary Islands to survey the volcano, but while there he generates more heat through his whirlwind passionate affair with Maria, the young beauty of the island. After carrying out some volcano monitoring and sampling he is confronted by the local doctor (Gomez), who has an obsession with Maria. Taking exception to Bertrand’s intention to jilt the pregnant Maria and leave the island, the enraged doctor seizes the geologists rock pick he spots on the ground and hits the surveyor in the back of the neck with it, killing him in graphic style. He then sets about hurling all of the surveyors equipment as well his body into a steaming fissure as his final act of vengeance. The brief survey incident seems to show Bertrand doing topographical measurement using a brass level with no crosshairs and his assistant showing him a non-calibrated round staff pole !!?

31/ The Castle (see my previous papers for this original numbering)

MS, Drama, Rated AO, (1968)

Director : Rudolf Noelte

Starring : Maximilian Schell, Cordula Trantow , Trudik Daniel, Helmut Qualtinger

Dark Franz Kafka satire on the public service. The land surveyor is the main character who roams from one sordid incident to the next, while all the time only ever being referred to as “The Land Surveyor” in a very demeaning fashion. Some nudity, sex scenes and hints of homosexuality add a mild hint of spice to the overly monotonous pace of the theme.

58/ Goin’ South

SS, Comedy/Western, Rated PG, (1978)

Director : Jack Nicholson

Starring : Jack Nicholson, Mary Steenburgen, Christopher Lloyd, John Belushi

Henry Moon (Nicholson) is saved from the noose by Julia Tate (Steenburgen) who marries him as an act of convenience to help her in her mine. A great scene of voyeurism sees the surveyor use his transit to spy on Julia while she bathes in the river, but Henry catches him.

Despite his feeble defence that he was only surveying, Henry and Julia hunt him away and then set about consummation of their allegedly Platonic union.

59/ Rollerball

BS, Action/Sci-fi, (2002)

Director: John McTiernan

Starring: Chris Klein, Jean Reno, LL Cool J, Rebecca Romijn-Stamos

In 2005 violent sports are the order of the day and the most common outcome is death ! A very brief scene of surveying in some open cut mine somewhere like Kazakhstan !?

NOTE:

The following movies are known to have surveying in them, but have not yet been added to this video:-

60/ The Draughtsman's Contract

SS, Comedy/Drama, Rated M, (1982)

Director : Peter Greenaway

Starring : Anthony Higgins, Janet Suzman, Anne-Louise Lambert

A “ladies’ man” draughtsman, very conceited and scheming, surveys and paints portraits of the estate of the husband of an English noblewoman. When it comes time to collect payment, the lady negotiates a fee which involves sexual favours.

61/ Masada

SS, Drama,(1981)

Director : Boris Sagal

Starring : Peter O’Toole, Peter Strauss, Barbara Carrera, Anthony Quayle, David Warner and Giulia Pagano.

True story about a group of Jews who occupy Herod’s former castle atop an impregnable precipice, and are besieged by the Romans who are fanatical about getting them out of there as a demonstration of their absolute rule. Quayle, as the surveyor/engineer Rubrius Gallus, surveys the topography and devises the construction of a massive ramp to provide access to the castle. However, when he is out of the tent alongside his Roman groma surveying instrument about to explain his formulation to his assistant he is shot in the neck by an arrow and ultimately dies.

62/ Hellfighters

SS, Action/Adventure, (1968)

Director: Andrew V. McLaglen

Starring: John Wayne, Katherine Ross, Jim Hutton and Vera Miles

The story of macho oil well blaze fire fighters and their wives, in which John Wayne plays “Chance” Buckman, the CEO of a company that extinguishes oil well fires. A touch of surveying is seen in this action movie.

63/ Lightning: Fire From The Sky

BS, Action/Adventure,(2001)

Director: David Giancola

Starring: John Schneider, Jessie Eisenberg, Stacy Keach

A severe lightning storm overwhelms the lead character, especially when he had not believed his son’s prediction of the disaster. Now he needs to learn to trust his son so that their family and the entire community is saved. Brief surveying once again.

64/ About Schmidt

BS, Comedy/Drama,(2002)

Director: Alexander Payne

Starring: Jack Nicholson, Hope Davis, Dermot Mulroney, Kathy Bates

Sixty year old Warren Schmidt tries to run his daughter’s life, only to realise that he has wasted his own. Some background survey work is seen.

65/ Young Mr. Lincoln

SS, Drama, (1939)

Director: John Ford

Starring: Henry Fonda, Alice Brady, Marjorie Weaver, Arleen Whelan

A dramatised account of the early life of the American president, Abraham Lincoln, based on reality. Apart from a lawyer, he was also a self-taught surveyor who did quite a number of land surveys, including the marking of the whole town of Petersburg.

66/ Once Upon a Time in the West (also known as “C’era Una Volta il West”)

BS, Western, (1968)

Director: Sergio Leone

Starring: Henry Fonda, Claudia Cardinale, Jason Robards, Charles Bronson, Gabriele Ferzetti, Jack Elam and Keenan Wynn

A spaghetti western made before they became fashionable, starring Henry Fonda as the archetypal bad guy dressed all in black. The usual love triangle western contest for the woman, with some brief survey scenes as a backdrop when an open wagon speeds dangerously close to the surveyor and his site.

67/ Winston Churchill: The Wilderness Years

SS, Drama, (1981)

Director: Ferdinand Fairfax

Starring: Robert Hardy, Sian Phillips, Nigel Havers, Chloe Salaman

A chronicle of Winston Churchill's life between 1929, when he lost his place in cabinet, up to 1939, the year he became the Prime Minister of Great Britain, a period described by him as the most difficult in his life. Winston carries out some survey tasks, which he was recognised as having done.
